

MAP-21 AND ITS EFFECT ON THE URA

Analysis and overview of this important new law

President Obama signed MAP-21 (Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century) into law on July 6, 2012. MAP-21 is significant for the right of way professional as it makes changes to the current Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, as amended (URA).

The adjacent chart illustrates the changes made by Section 1521 of MAP-21 by contrasting them with the current law, the United States Code Title 42 - The Public Health and Welfare Chapter 61 - Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies for Federal and Federally Assisted Programs Subchapter II - Uniform Relocation Assistance.

As illustrated by the chart, Section 1521 contains the following significant changes, among others:

- Increases the maximum reestablishment expense payment from $10,000 - $25,000
- Increases the maximum amount of the fixed payment for nonresidential moves from $20,000 to $40,000
- Increases the maximum purchase price differential for homeowners from $22,500 to $31,000
- Increases the maximum rental supplement for 90-Day Tenants $5,250 to $7,200
- Changes the occupancy requirement for owner-occupants to 90 days instead of 180 days

According to Section 3 of MAP-21, with a few exceptions and/or unless specified elsewhere in the Act, the effective date of MAP-21 is October 1, 2012. However, the second paragraph under Section 1521(g) indicates that the amendments made by subsections a-c shall take effect two years after the date of enactment of this Act. This is to allow the regulations to be updated to implement these statutory changes. Subsections a-c are the Uniform Act related changes.

It is important to note that, to date currently it is not exactly clear when these changes to the URA will be implemented by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA). FHWA will have to go through a rule making process similar to that which resulted in the new regulations in 2005. As always, it is very important to discuss any changes in the governing laws and regulations with your sponsoring agency before implementing any changes to procedures.
